A MERRY, ODOR-FREE HOLIDAY SEASON WITH FOOD SCRAP MANAGEMENT

'Tis the season to reduce waste and spread cheer, not odors! Here are festive ways to keep our food scrap collection as merry as your holiday celebrations:

- Peppermint Oil: Infuse your kitchen with the holiday spirit while keeping smells at bay.
- Baking Soda: Like a winter snowfall, sprinkle it to keep the air fresh and clean.
- Newspaper or Brown Paper Bags: Layered like wrapping paper, they help keep your scraps as tidy as gifts under the tree.
- Freeze Until Ready: Let your scraps take a holiday in the freezer until they can be given the gift of composting.
- Coffee Grounds: After your holiday coffee, use the grounds to tackle any unwanted odors.
- Tea Tree Oil: A natural remedy that's almost as magical as the holidays itself for keeping things fresh.
- Compostable/Reusable Produce Bags: As eco-friendly and help manage scraps without the funk.
- Citrus Peels & Zest: Add a touch of holiday zest, both in flavor and in keeping your kitchen smelling delightful.
- Rose/Leaf Cuttings: Think of them as the garlands of your compost, bringing a fresh cent to your bins.
- Powdered Lime: Sprinkle it like snow to keep your compost balanced and odor-free.
- Dishwasher-Safe Kitchen Pails: Easy to clean, just like holiday decorations after the season's end.
- Store Cart in a Shady Area: Let your cart rest in the cool shade, much like a snowy retreat.
- Layer of Sawdust: Absorb moisture like the snow absorbs sound, making for a quiet, odorless holiday.

This holiday season, let's keep our community green and our kitchens smelling like gingerbread, not garbage.
